SHAKESPEARE SOCIETY OF NEW YORK.

The Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies of Mr. William Shakespeare as presented at the Globe and Blackfriars Theatres, circa 1591–1623, being the text furnished the players in parallel pages with the first revised folio text, with critical introductions (The Bankside Shakespeare, ed. by A. Morgan). 22 vols. 8vo. New York, 1888–1906. H 9 R 1–22

1. The Merry Wives of Windsor (the Players' text of 1602, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an analytical study of the growth of the play, and touching the question as to whether the 1602 or 1623 is the original version prepared by order of Queen Elizabeth, by A. Morgan.
2. The Taming of the Shrew (the Players' Text of "The Taming of a Shrew" of 1594, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an analytical study of the growth of the play, and touching the question as to whether both plays are the work of William Shakespeare, by A. R. Frey.
3. The Merchant of Venice (the Players Text of 1600, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the questions, Why were two quarto editions of the play printed A.D. 1600? and, Is the author's knowledge of law as shown in the trial scene such as to sustain or disprove the (so called) "Baconian Theory"? by W. Reynolds.
4. Troilus and Cressida (the Players' Text of 1609, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the question as to whether the play held Shakespeare's stage or was printed with his concurrence, by A. Morgan.
5. The Tragedie of Romeo and Juliet (the Players' Text of 1597, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the question as to the medical acquirements of its writer, by B. R. Field.
6. Much Adoe about Nothing (the Players' Text of 1600, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the influence upon the Shakespeare Plays of the Statute of James I concerning "the Abuses of Players," by W. H. Fleming.
7. The lamentable Tragedie of Titus Andronicus (the Players' Text of 1600, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the question as to whether this was William Shakespeare's first dramatic work, and as to its stage adaptability and reception, by A. Morgan.
8. A Midsommer Nights Dreame (the Player's Text of 1600, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the relation of the Fisher and Roberts quartos to each other, and the presentation of Fairies upon the Elizabethan stage, by W. Reynolds.
9. The Tragedie of Othello, the Moore of Venice (the Players' Text of 1622, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction on the construction and types of Shakespeare's verse as seen in this play, by T. R. Price.
10. King Lear (the Player's Text of 1608, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the priority of the Pide Bull quarto, the dependence of the folio text upon the original sketch of the play, and sundry points of textual criticism, by A. A. Adee.
11. Hamlet, Prince of Denmarke (the Players' Text of 1603, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching questions as to the origins of the play and the time covered by its action, by E. P. Vining.
12. The first part of Henry the Fourth (the Players' Text of 1598, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the genesis of the play, by W. H. Fleming.

13. The second part of Henry the Fourth (the Players' Text of 1600, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the materials of the first draft of the two parts of Henry IV, by W. H. Fleming.
14. Pericles, Prince of Tyre (the Players' Text of 1609, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the question of the genuineness of the play, by A. Morgan.
15. The Tragedy of Richard the Third (the Players' Text of 1597, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the historical bases of the play, its motive, authorship, and stage history, by E. A. Calkins.
16. The Life of Henry the Fift (the Players' Text of 1600, with Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the history of the quarto texts and the sources of the first folio text of this play, by Rev. H. A. Stokes.
7. The Life and Death of King Richard the Second (the Players' Text of 1597, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an historical introduction, by A. Waites.
18. The Life and Death of King John (the Players' Text of The Troublesome Raigne &c. of 1591, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the adaptations of the quarto into folio, by A. Morgan.
19. The second part of Henry the Sixth (the Players' Text of "The Contention" of 1594, with the first folio text of the Second Part of King Henry the Sixth of 1623); with an introduction touching the question of the authorship, etc., of this play, by C. W. Thomas.
20. The third part of Henry the Sixt (the Players' Text of "The True Tragedie," etc. of 1595, with the first folio text of 1623); with an introduction touching the stage setting of the three parts of this play, by A. Morgan.
21. Loues Labour's Lost (the Players' Text of 1598, with the Heminges and Condell Text of 1623); with an introduction touching the question whether this play was originally written, or only "newly corrected and augmented" by William Shakespeare, by I. H. Platt.
22. (Sequel to the Bankside Shakespeare.) The Comedie of Errors (the Heminges and Condell text with the "Globe" modern text); with an introduction by A. Morgan.
